TERMS AND CONDITIONS

The goal of xDSL.net is to provide reliable, high-value Internet services critical to growing our clients' businesses. The Terms and Conditions ("T&C") and the Acceptable Use Policy ("AUP" ) is designed to keep xDSL.net and the Internet productive for all of our clients, many of whom depend on reliable Internet access for the success of their business. Violation of these policies may result in suspension or cancellation of xDSL.net services without advance notice. This policy should be read and interpreted in conjunction with the xDSL.net Customer Service Agreement.

xDSL.net supports the free flow of information and ideas over the Internet. xDSL.net does not actively monitor or exercise editorial control over the content of any web site, electronic mail transmission, mailing list, news group or other material created or accessible over xDSL.net services. However, xDSL.net reserves the right to take action to remove or prevent the transmission of any materials that xDSL.net does become aware of that are, in xDSL.net's sole discretion, potentially illegal, could subject xDSL.net to liability, or violate these T&Cs. xDSL.net reserves the right to recover from Client reasonable labor costs for remedial and preventative actions taken by xDSL.net as a result of Client's violation of this T&C. Client is responsible for the actions of their employees or others with access to xDSL.net network resources by way of client's connection to xDSL.net. Client agrees to take prudent action to reasonably enforce the policy by users of their network.
